

No need to go to Perth to get your cylinders tested. We are here in the South West

- Is your car fitted with LPG?
- Do you know that you should get it serviced once a year?
- Did you know that your vehicles gas cylinder has to be tested every 10 years? It is very important to get them tested for the Safety of you and your loved ones.

Summer is coming. Are you ready?

- Are your BBQ Bottles in test date?
- Your BBQ bottles have to be tested every 10 years.
- Do you know that your scuba tank has to be tested each year.

LPG vehicle gas cylinders

Australian Standards require LPG Cylinders to be inspected and tested every 10 years.

This test expiry date showing the month and year is stamped on the gas cylinder. In some cases, it may be difficult to see the date. Mark Young is an experienced Auto Gas Fitter here at South West Tank Test Station and is the best person to advise you as to when your gas cylinder is out of date.

Out of date cylinders must not be filled until tested and re-stamped at a certified test station.

Filling LPG gas cylinders that are damaged or untested is illegal and dangerous.

If the 10 year certification period will expire before the next regular vehicle service, arrangements should be made for the gas container to be reinspected and restamped at a certified gas cylinder test station as soon as possible.

South West Tank Test Station is an approved test station here in the South West. Contact details are available from auto gas fitters, licensing centres or EnergySafety.

Always check at your Service

- Test Date
- Condition of the Cylinder
- Condition of cylinder mounts
- Space between Cylinder and Shield for corrosion or foreign objects

SOUTH WEST TANK TEST STATION

Phone: 9721 1190 Fax: 9791 5007 A/H: 0428 213 868
Unit 2/60 Albert Road, Bunbury WA 6230
Email: swtts@westnet.com.au ABN: 69 359 964 745